Governor Cox, while speaking frequently and effectively on the league subject has been speaking in the far west and his utterances, perhaps because of the distance of his speaking place from the thickly populated east, have failed to crystalize the league issue. Republicans, long before Woodrow Wilson ever uttered a word in behalf of the league, had advanced this great idea. Men of the type of Lodge, Taft, Burton, Roosevelt and others long ago, advocated it. It was not until Woodrow Wilson put into effect the principle of the league of nations that Lodge and his friends backed way and expressed themselves in opposition to it."

From this it may be inferred that the president's efforts will be directed next to advocating the league itself, to drawing out Harding to an unequivocal stand either in opposition to any league or in support of some definite substitute with the attendant dangers to the republican candidate in accepting either alternative.

Orangeburg, S. C., September 27.— Loss estimated at $190,00 was caused here today by fire in the business section of town which practically destroyed the stock and interior fittings of the Tyler Brothers company department store. The Tyler store was the chief sufferer, its loss being estimated at about $75,000, partially covered by insurance. Exact cause of the fire had not been determined tonight, but it was thought possible that lighting started it, as there was a heavy thunderstorm at the time. INTERNATIONAL MERCANTILE MARINE COMPANY which is part of the American Radio Relay league, an organization of radio amateurs formed to relay messages throughout the United States and Canada. In the government's fourth radio district, comprising the states of North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Alabama, Atlanta is the natural center, and Tech is the ranking of "key" stations.

The Atlanta Radio club has access to the ladio equipment at Tech, which includes some of the latest army equipment loaned by the signal corps unit of the reserve officers' training corps at Tech, as weil as the equipment of the technical engineering department of the school. While this is still far below what stations in the east have, it makes Tech the principal radio station in the south.

Since the fourth district heretofore has been the weakest in the chain of radio communication in America, and since more amateurs are vitally needed in this part of the country in order to reduce the length of radio relays and make communication more efficient, Tech and the Radio club announce they will take active steps to secure the perfection of the service.

First of these is the attempt to get all amateur radio operators in Georgia registered, with full description at the Tech station. Another step proposed is to secure at Tech a new electric engineering building with adequate facilities for modern radio work and instruction, including ample research laboratories for radio development work. Resolutions urging the establishment of such a plant at Tech were recently passed by the Atlanta Radio club, following an address by Phinehas V. Stephens, consulting engineer at Georgia Tech and a ploneer in radio development in the south.

Mr. Paxon's formal statement of the affair follows:

"At the last meeting of the Presidents' club the executive committee of said club, through dischairman, reported that they recommended the Presidents' club withdrawing fellowship from Mr. James L. Key, who was a member of said club, as mayor of the city. The action of the executive committee of the Presidents' club was unanimously approved. The membership was withdrawn.

"The club did not propose to countenance the unwarranted and uncalled for attack made by James L. Key upon Mell R. Wilkinson, as a citizen, in the recent primary election, when Mr. Key ran for relection.

"Mr. Wilkinson has been the president of the Presidents' club since its organization. His character is unimpeachable, without reproach; his life, public and private, is open and known to all men, and the Presidents' club was not willing to have any member of the club continue as a member of said club under the circumstances. Mr. Key certainly knew that his charges against Mr. Wilkinson were unfounded, yet he has never retracted them publicly or privately.

"When the matter was brought up at the club, Mr. Wilkinson was present and presidents' club; he certainly could not expect to sit around the table, when Mr. Wilkinson was present and presided, under the circumstances, and as notice of each meeting is mailed to each member, he could readily see that not receiving an invitation, he had been dropped as a member of said club.

TO ACT ON SPEEDING

"We are going to ask for the death penalty for drivers who violate the law and kill pedestrians.
"An ordinance regulating and limiting the speed of automobies at the intersection of streets will be drawn up in this office and will be presented to the mayor and city council at an early date. In almost every instance now pending the homicide took place at the intersection of streets.

"The speed mania has grown on the public, but the time to call a halt has come and every cog in the court machinery will be tightened and used to put a stop to the wanton taking of human life as the result of reckless driving."

Drastic steps will also be taken by the city authorities in a campaign to break up speeding and other violations of the traffic laws, it was announced Monday.

"Something must be done to relieve the terrible situation that now exists and which is daily getfing city recorder to deal severely with such cases. Mayor Key's statement follows:

"The frightful occurrences in this city within the last few days, causing loss of life and injury to people rightfully using the streets, and caused by persons violating the traffic ordinances of the city, must be stopped. To do this it will call for vigilance on the part of the police department, voluntary assistance on the part of the public, and a strenuous, vigorous and emphatic enforcement of the law by the recorder. To deal with this class of cases too lightly encourages violations rather than discourages them. The public can play a large and important part in this by reporting and prosecuting instances of violations of the traffic ordinances. I earnestly ask the public do this."

Chief of Police James L. Beavers said Monday night with reference to the reckless driving so much in evidence:

"All of the men that we can possibly spare to enforce the speed and traffic ordinances have been assigned to these duties. men to look after this menace, and we hope to get the necessary funds from council."

"I am determined that petty matters shall be laid aside and every agency of the police department be used to check the speeding of machines and other forms of lawlessness that jeopardize the life and safety of citizens," said Chairman Ed H. Inman, of the traffic committee of the board of police commissioners, who Monday afternoon called his committee for a meeting in his office at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning for the purpose of devising ways and means of regulating the use of motor vehicles about the city.

One of the plans Chairman Inman favored was the appointment of a traffic lieutenant, charged with the responsibility of a rigid enforcement of the traffic ordinances and speed laws. This lieutenant will select his subordinates and they will be accountable to him, and he, in turn, to the chief of police.

At, the meeting this morning recommendations will be formulated for presentation to the board of police commissioners at a meeting called for Wednesday night.

Commissioner Andy/R. King, also of the traffic committee, expressed similar views to those of Chairman Inman. Commissioner Aldine Chambers, the other member of the committee, could not be located up to a late hour Monday night.

Disregard of Law.

"I never saw such a flagrant disregard of traffic laws in any city as there is in Atlanta," said George F. Eubanks. president of the Kiwanis club. "The remedy, in my opinion, is a severe fine for each violation. It is up to the police department to make the cases, of course, but this will have but little effect unless the officers are backed up by the recorder. This thing of imposing light fines should be discontinued, and a minimum fine of $25 and costs imposed for every violation, and $50 and costs for all second offenses, and proportionate increases for each offense thereafter—put them in fall, if necessary to protect the lives of our citzens.

"I would subgest that a summary of the city traffic ordinance be published, so that each driver may familiarize himself with the various laws. The pedestrians also have a certain amount of responsibility, and should also study the laws. One of the-most important laws that is constantly violated is that which prohibits vehicles passing another on the right-hand side. If persons disregarding such laws were heavily fined, they would think the second time before the second offense."

amusements we will have a special fireworks program prepared and fired as early in the evening as practical, so that the children may get home early. From the enthusiasm our representatives find everywhere among children who have attended the Southeastern fair, we feel sure those who are kept in school that day will make but little educational progress.

"We would suggest that many children might come if there was an organized effort in each country community to bring those whose parents can not attend. This can be done by getting some public-spirited merchant to fit up his truck to help carry those who would have no other means of reaching the fair grounds."

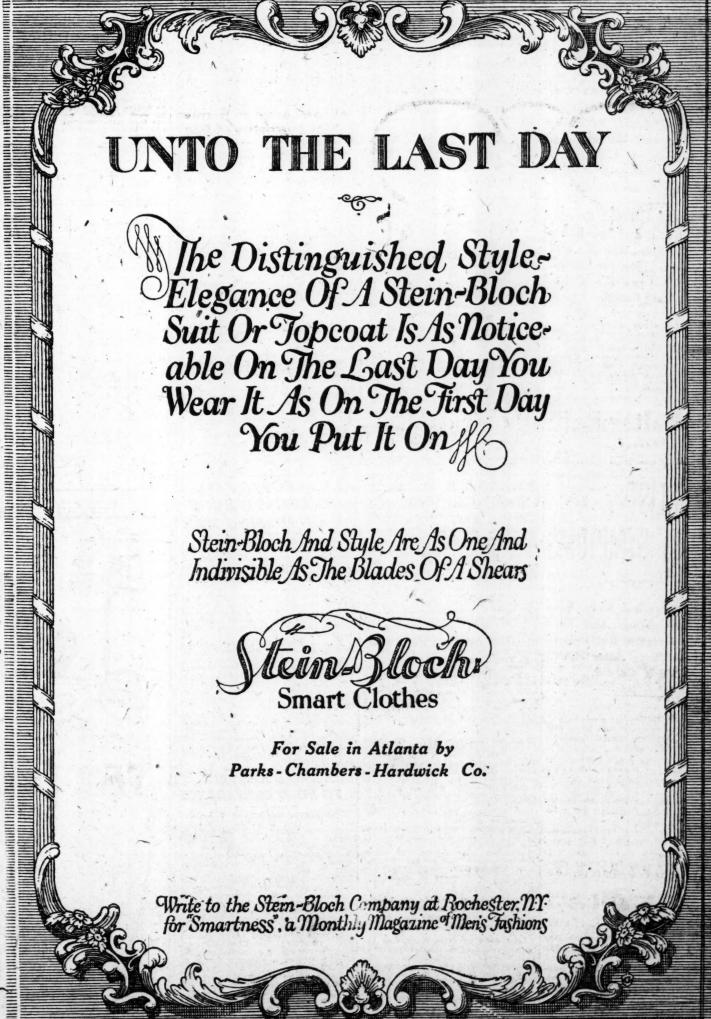

All teachers who expect to arrange for their schools to attend should write to Secretary R. M. Striplin at once so that they may be provided with the tickets to be sold to the children, which will enable them to enter the grounds with much less trouble than under the old plan of a special school ticket with the price of admission.

HOW DOCTORS

First Step in Treatment Is a Brisk Purgative With Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets That Are Nausealess, Safe and

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. That is why the first step in the treatment is the new, nausealess calomel tablet called Calotabs, which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old style calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One Calotab on the tongue at bed time, with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your Doctors have found by experience that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your pating; pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with's hearty appetite for breakfast. Druggists sell Calotabs only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if you do not find them delightful.—(advt.)

should, therefore, be closed, and wired; and the house in the country, "Runner's Rest." should remain closed and in charge of the farmer who had always looked out for it.

This could be attended to; no need of his comins back.

So he wrote his directions to Stephanie and settled down again with a sigh of relief to the golden days which promised.

His work, now deeply colored by Gallic influence and environment, had developed to that stage of embryonic promise marred by manner isms and affectations. His style temporarily spoiled by a sort of Franco-American jargon, became involved in the swamps of psychological subtleties, emerging jerkliy at times, or relapsing into Debussy-like redundancy.

Nobody wanted his short stories, his poems, his impressions. Publishers in London and in America returned "Day Dreams" and "Out of the Depths" with polite regrets. He sounded every depth of despondency and self-distrust; he soared on wings of hope again, striving to keep his gaze on the blinding source of light, only to become confused and waver and flutter and come, tumbling down, frantically beating the too rarified atmosphere with unaccustomed wings.

Nobody could tell him. He had to find out the way. He had within him what was worth saying: had not yet learned how to say it. The massed testimony of the masters lay heavily undigested within him; he was too richly fed, stuffed; the intricacies and complexities of technique worried and disheartened him; he felt too keenly, too deeply to keep a clear mind and a cool one.

Every sense he possessed was necessary to him in his creative and clarity.

This was a phase. He had the usual experience. He struggled through it and onward. (To be Continued Tomorrow.)

Demand for Tickets To Music Series

Growing Rapidly cert tickets marked the reopening of the season ticket sale to the civic concert series and the series intime of the Music Study club at Cable hall Monday. The sale will be in progress during the next three weeks.

Owing to the large number of season tickets which have been sold to the Series Intime, which is to be held in the ballroom of the Capital city club, and to the small capacity of the hall, it now appears that the entire capacity will be taken in the season sale, leaving practically no seats to be obtained for the individual concerts by the Flonzaley quartet, Cyril Scott, Florence Macbeth, New York Chamber Music society and the Tollefsen trio. Those who are contemplating securing seats to these concerts are, therefore, urged to make immediate season reservations. Prices are $5 for the five concerts.

The demand for season tickets to the large course at the Auditorium-Armory, which includes such artists as Fritz Kreisler, the Isadora Duncan dancers, Margaret Matsenauer and others is rapidly diminishing the available supply of choice seats. Prices on these range from $3 to $7 for the five concerts.

Nervous Breakdown

"I am so nervous it seems as though I should fly"—"My nerves are all on edge"—"I wish I were dead." How often have we heard these expressions or others quite as extravagant from some loved one who has been brought to this state by some female trouble which has slowly developed until the nerves can no longer stand up under it. No woman should allow herself to drift into this condition without giving that good old-fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

Read the Letters of These Two Women.

North East, Md.-"I was in ill health four or five years and doctored with one doctor after another but none helped me. I was irregular and had such terrible pain in my back, lower part of my body and down each side that I had to go to bed three or four days every month I was very nervous, tired, could not sleep and could not eat without getting sick. A friend asked me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vege-table Compound and I am sorry I did not take it sooner for it has helped me wonderfully. I don't have to go to bed with the pain, can eat without being sick and have more strength. I recommend your medicine and you are at liberty to publish my testimonial,"—
ELIZABETH WEAVER, R. R. 2, North East, Md.

Minneapolis, Minn.-"I was run down and nervous, could not restat night and was more tired in the morning than when I went to bed. I have two children, the youngest three months old and it was drudgery to care for them as I felt so irritable and generally worn out. From lack of rest and appetite my baby did not get enough nourishment from my milk so I started to give him two bottle feedings a day. After taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman, full of life and energy. It is a pleasure to care for my children, and I am very happy with them and feel fine. I nurse my baby exclusively again, and can't say too much for your medicine."—Mrs. A. L. MILLER, 2633 E. 24th St., Minneapolis, Minn.

Mrs. Charles Chalmers, chairman of the music committee, arranged the program, an hour in length, and she received congratulations and thanks for making it possible for the club members to hear such artists as Mrs. Alice Drennen Spellings, coloratura soprano, of Chicago, and Paul Ryman, tenor, of Nashville, Tenn., both of whom are new to Atlanta.

Mrs. Spellings, who, before her marriage, was a well-known concert singer, charmed the audience both with her delightful voice and attractive personality. Sparkling and vivacious in the brighter numbers, including the exquisite and difficult her usual delightful manner. Mirs Evelyn Jordan and Mr. Clinton C. Jones, whose marriage will be an interesting event of this morning, were entertained at an elegant buffet supper last evening, given by Mrs. Clarence May at her home on Myrtle street.

September flowers decorated the anartments, and were used in the dining room. The guest list included a number of visitors, who arrived Monday to attend the wedding. They are Misses Selene Woodside, of Greenville; Catherine Tannahill, of Greenville; Print Priestly Conyers, of Greenville; Frank Owens, Clarence Jordan and Harry Batton, all of Philadelphia.

Introduced by Gen. Felix Agnus, publisher of The Baltimore American, Senator Harding got his second tumultuous demonstration of the evening meeting when he arose to speak. It was more than a minute before the crowd was quieted.

Early in the address Senator Harding had his first experience of the campaign with heckling, when a man arose in the gallery and asked whether he had "scrapped" the league of nations. The nominee's reply was an unaccepted challenge to debate the league with hi sinterrogator and the crowd expressed its approval in another prolonged demonstration. venture extending over a period of fourteen weeks, during which time Poland, Germany, Belgium, England and the United States were arrived Monday morning at their final destination, Atlanta, to make their home with H. The senator was speaking of oneman government when the interruption came.

"I want to ask," said the heckler, "whether you have scrapped the league and whether you stand for Senator Johnson in his position."

Cries of "put him out," mingled with demands that the nominee answer the question, and Senator Harding raised bis hand for silence.

"I understand what prompted that question," said Senator Harding, "and I want to say that if I were in favor of one man government in this republic, then I should be able myself to answer your question. I don't know whether I should turn my attention from these thousands to address myself to you personally, but if you will come to the platform I will divide my time with you to discuss this question." Upon entering the little grocery store on Mangum street Monday morning it was necessary to glance often at the well-known American labels on boxes and cans to convince oneself that the scene actually in Atlanta rather than some province of far-away Russia. A tumult in the audience followed during which the heckler disappeared from his place in the gallery. He did not appear on the platform, however.

At the conclusion of his prepared address the nominee replied more at length to the heckler's question about the league of nations.

"I might have answered him more extensively," said the senator. "He wanted to know whether I had promised to scrap the league. The one great failure to make the most of America's leadership in the world was due to the fact that one man attempted to speak, not only for America, but for the remainder of the world as well. Guy Lewis Declares Tornado Will Face Surprise Saturday work, Guy C. Lewis, a former resident of Atlanta, and a football player of some years back for Dartmouth university, arrived in Atlanta Saturday in time to referee the Oglethorpe-Dahlonega game, in which the Petrels rolled up a 63-to-0 score against the north Georgians.

Seeing the charges in that action, Mr. Lewis asserts that Coach

Walter B. "Jogger" Elcock has constructed a machine capable of giving a good account of itself against Tech, and Mr. Lewis says it will do just that thing. Having played foetball during every year he was Dartmouth, and having been reckoned as one of the best linesmen the "back-east" section, Guy Lewis ought to know what he's talking about, and for our part, we're willing to bank on his opinion that the warriors of the Elcock band will play a very creditable game against the Golden Tornado Saturday afternoon

Coach Elcock and Mr. Lewis have been close friends for many years. Entering Dartmouth in the same semester, they went out for the classed with the best the nation 'varsity team on the same day, and their names were posted on the letter list at the same time and they've been sticking pretty close to each their names were posted on the letter list at the same time and they've been sticking pretty close to each other ever since.

list at the same time and they've been sticking pretty close to each other ever since.

Mr. Lewis says that Jogger Electock has made football players of men who didn't know such a game existed a year ago, and he states further that the Oglethorpe men who played last year have improved to such an extent that it's hard to recognize the player. Coach Elecock is a past-master at getting work out of his men, and Mr. Lewis declares that the Petrels would fight and die for their football mentor. Backfield Is Strong.

Backfield Is Strong.

It is in the backfield that the Oglethorpe machine is especially strong, Mr. Lewis states, and he names several players in that department who might bring trouble to the Tornado. At the top of this list Mr. Lewis pats John Knox, who is regarded as one of the best half backs in the south. Much of John's ability has been overlooked in past years through the indifferent interference he received in attempting his sweeps around the wings. Mr. Lewis states that Coach Elcock has done wonders in working out this problem of good interference, and he declares that John Knox will have several good men preceding him to the open space beyond the line of scrimmage.

Mr. Lewis doesn't express any belief that Oglethorpe will defeat Georgia Tech. They won't do it, not this year, at least, but he does believe that if the Golden Tornado is expecting a "set-up." Georgia Tech would do a good day's work in getting rid of any such impressions.

Has Thirty Men.

Has Thirty Men.

Working under his direction just now, Coach Elcock has about thirty men. Once upon a time this season that number was much greater, but in the pre-season slices many would-be footballists fell by the wayside and will have to content themselves by looking on from the sidelines in 1920. Next year many of them will receive letters, but because the football they absorbed in the short time they labored under Coach Elcock's supervision has put the taste in their mouths, and they'll be there for the gong in 1921.

Back to the squad, Coach Elcock found a fairly formidable lot of gridfroners on hand when he started things at Oglethorpe. For several years the school had been maintaining a football team of rather unproven worth, and the men were anxious to have the fame of Petrels spread over the land. As a consequence, when they took the field under Coach Elcock they were filled with a desire to accomplish things, and they've done so.

J. Hume McDonald, the genial boxing promoter of the village, announced Monday that he would give a beautiful cup to the winner of the championship, said trophy to be displayed in Spalding & CO.'s window after Wednesday morning. McDonald stated he was going to award a cup, everything was off, and the two losers in the memorable struggle immediately decided that another round would have to be played. What Mr. Dubb thinks about this is immaterial. The losers always will believe that he was shooting ten strokes better than he ever can again, and this belief is shared by the hundreds of bugs in Atlanta who have seen Mr. Dubb in action.

Atlanta Gets Early Lend.

The Atlanta amateurs amassed an early lead by a couple of runs in the first. Svannah made one in the second and tied the count in the second and tied the count in the fifth. An eighth inning rally netted the visitors a couple of tallies, but the ninth was fruitless for them and the four runs gleaned in the seventh, plus the two in the first, were sufficient for the locals to take the contest.

Both pitchers were in several holes and sometimes they managed to extract themselves by good pitching and sometimes their fielders answered the call for help. Kelly was as wild as a march hare and this propensity to miss the plate was disastrous to his regime. In the first, a walk to Lewis and Dunn's error on Cannon's bunt, put two men on bases. However, on Eskew's grounder to third, Lewis was run down between third and home and Cannon was tagged, completing an unassisted double play for Stegall. Woofen was safe on an error by Norris and Hicks doubled, scoring Eskew and Wooten. Stegall scored the visitors' first counter on a free pass to him, a sacrifice by Hank Dunn and Burns' single to right. The tying counter was put across in the fifth on Powers' hit, a stolen base and a wild throw to second, that went past the center fielder.

The seventh and eighth netted the Atlantans enough runs to win easily. In the seventh, Lewis was walked and continued to third when Norris booted Cannon's roller. Estew sacrificed Lewis home. Wooten was passed, but Hicks hit his second double and Cannon and Wooten counted. Hicks scored on Smith's hit.

The eighth brought in three runs all brought in by Wooten's drive to left. Williamson bingled to center. Lewis was safe at first on the pitcher's wild heave to first. Cannon strolled to the initial bag on four balls. Wooten pounded out his double and brought in all of the occupants of the eighth meant a couple of runs for the Savannahans. Powers and Tyson singled in rapid succession and Norris was safe when Lewis let his roller get away from him. Stegall hit in a double play, Williamson tossing out Powers at the plate to Vandegriff, who doubled Stegall at first. Abrams, who had replaced Dunn at first, made his bow and a hit, which scored Tyson and Norris. The Box Score.

Chicago, September 27.—With "Little Dick" Kerr pitching masterly ball, the Chicago White Sox continued their victorious march today in the American league pennant race, defeating Detroit, 2 to 0 today in the final game of the season. The victory was Chicago's tenth in the last eleven games.

Kerr pitched a remarkable game, not allowing a man to reach third base, and was never in danger. Dauss also pitched splendid ball, allowing only one hit up to the sixth inning. After hitting Weaver in the sixth, however, Eddie Collins and Joe Jackson knocked out long singles, which, coupled with a poor return by Cobb, gave Chicago's only runs.

the defensive, with Jake still slipping over the jabs, but with lessering power as the fray unfurled.

To sum up the decision, we see no reason for condemning McDonald too severely for his very evident poor judgment on this one occasion. It's hard for a man, regardless of his great knowledge of the branth he's dealing with, to go through life without making a mistake. Seasoned baseball umpires can't do it; successful bankers place loans on unstable securities at times, and the soned baseball umpress can't do it, successful bankers place loans on unstable securities at times, and the same thing holds true for the boxing referee. It is our belief that Hume McDonald knows the fight game from its every angle; that he has striven long and hard to give the fans of Atlanta clean entertainment, but he missed last night.

Abel fought a much cleaner fight than his opponent. It was announced that the kidney punch was barred, but a blue spot over Abel's kidney still remains unaccounted for, and unless the eyes of several hundred fight fans deceived them, they saw the reason in a good right hand of the Miller warrior. Those occurrences were overlooked. Thay

The devision was the only event that marred a perfect card. The bouts had been heralded as the best to be staged in Atlanta during the year, and, without question, they were.

Jake Abel entered the ring with the odds all against him. His most optimistic supporters—and Jake has several thousand throughout the south—were not of the belief that he stood the slightest chance against his hard-hitting, younger and heavier opponent. But, after the first round, the wind shifted and Jake's ring generalship began to assert itself.

Halley Missed.

Time after time would the hay-maker wallops of the Miller fighter be turned to naught, while, on the other hand, the straight jabs of the smaller fighter were playing havon with the hopes of the fraternity who had placed their faith and their pocketbooks on the superior weight and clouting qualities of Battling Bill.

After the third round, it is the writer's belief that Balley falled to take a single round, and we concede him that frame because a couple of long-traveling blows caught Abel in the first minute of the round. In the last minute of the round. Bailey was big enough to have knocked Abel out, and as a matter of fact, he should have done so, Nothing but the amazingly good generalship of Jake Abel warded off such an event, and it was this same knowledge of his profession and a fighting intuition that gave Jake Abel the fight, in the opinion of the writer.

Cleverness Too Much.

Jake's cleverness was too much for the heavier man to solve, and wallops that would have ended the fight in an instant were wasted by Bailey. Both men were aggressive, but Jake was more so than was predicted in the pre-fight "dope." The work of registering the immense number of students occupied the whole of last week and Monday saw the class men accommodated on the campus.

When the books of the registrar's office were closed last Saturday afternoon a total of 1,343 day students had enrolled, thus eclipsing the high water mark set last fall when 1,334 names were entered upon the books. But the registration was not finished up Saturday and Monday saw the total climb to 1,420 day students. From all indications this figure will soon pass the 1,500 mark.

Evening Classes.

Enrollment in the evening classes offered by the Georgia School of Technology began Monday night with the largest registration for the first evening in the history of the commercial school. More than 100 local business men and women registered for the courses and indications point to the heaviest enstablishment of the school. The school is being held in the Murphy building at the corner of Pryor street and Auburn avenue. Registration was officially announced to begin Wednesday, but on account of the great number of applications it, was decided to open two days earlier. Class work will not begin until next Monday, but registration will continue each night this week between the hours of 6:45 and 9 o'clock. Many students are enrolling in the class sponsored by the Atlanta Ad Men's club. Professor J. M. Watters is dean of the schools.

Radicals Invade Government Palace in the Capital and Harangue for So-

Washington, September 127.—(By the Associated Press.)—Alfred Natle, diplomatic representative of the Letvian government, who recently was ordered deported from New York, was responsible for the selection of Nicolai Lenine to head the bolshevik revolution in Russia, according to reports in the hands of the state department.

These reports state that some time ago, during the spriag of 1917, Nagle was employed by Von Bethmann-Hollweg, then imperial German chancellor, to go to Switzerland and there pick out the best revolutionists to send into Russia to overthrow the czar's government. In a three-hundrde-word report, Nagle informed the chancellor that Lenine was the most radical leader, but urged the Germans not to use him. Lenine, however, was sent by the Germans to Russia on the now famous sealed train.

Nagle, at his deportation heairing, admitted he had spoken with Lenine in Switzerland in 1917, and told the examiner he had heard Lenine was a German secret agent sent to Russia "to foment a revolution and carry out certain plans laid in Germany."

After his visit to Switzerland. sia "to foment a revolution and carry out certain plans laid in Germany."

After his visit to Switzerland, Nagle returned to Germany and later was sent by the Germans to Russia as a spy. According to the state department reports, he held some sort of a position under the Kerensky government, to which he reported about his trip to Switzerland as a German agent. During 1919, Nagle was employed by Nelson Morris, American minister to Sweden, in the Russian work of the American legation at Stockholm. In the early months of that year he made several visits to Russia and, it is charged, that in each instance, after his return, he wrote reports which were "quite pro-bolshevist in tendency and tone," and which he turned over to American newspaper correspondents, who cabled them to the United States.

"In view of his past record and of his appeal for sympathy for, if not actual connection with, the bolshevist government in Russia," the state department's report to the immigration bureau, recommended that Nagle be refused admittance to the United States.

Among suggestions from the palace balcony were the dynamiting of the achbishop's palace, the erection of a guillotine for all journalists in the Central plaza and the sacking of food shops.

A political tinge has been given the demonstration by the newspaper El Universal, which charges that Luis Morones, the most radical orator, was a former secret agent of the Carranza government. SIX BIDS ARE MADE Washington, September 27.—Six bids, the lowest of which was that of the Selden-Breck Construction company, of St. Louis, for $746,000, were received today by the war department for completion of construction work at Camp Benning, near Columbus, Ga., which was stopped shortly after the armistice. Action on all bids was deferred.

The bid submitted by the Selden-Breck company was a net offer, $80,000 having been deducted for purchase of material on the site.

On the basis of allowance for material, the Moren-Burkenham Construction company, of Montgomery, Ala., submitted a bid of $983,000, while the King Lumber company, of Charlottesville, Va., offered to complete the work for $1,034,000.

War department officials said they expected to be able to announce award of the contract tomorrow.

RAIL REPRESENTATIVE

Head of West Point Road Accepts Appointment to Planning Board.

Railroad interests in Atlanta will be represented on the new city planning commission by Charles A. Wickersham, president of the Atlanta and West Point railway, who accepted the appointment Monday morning by Mayor Key following a conference in the mayor's office of heads of the different railroads, all heads of the different railroads, all of whom unanimously recommended Mr. Wickersham for the place.

Two weeks ago the mayor directed letters to chiefs of all the railroads entering the city telling then that he had it in mind to appoint one member of the commission who should be selected by the railroad interests.

The mayor stated that he realized the railroad companies are much interested in the proposed work of the commission and that the development of any comprehensive plan the railroad companies are much interested in the proposed work of the commission and that the development of any comprehensive plan must take the railroads' interests into consideration and a spirit of mutual co-operation, should be sought between them and the city. He stated that whatever plan the commission should develop he would wish that it coincide with the plans of the railroads, and at the same time that whatever plans in the railroads have in mind they coincide with the plans of the commission.

There will be six members of the blanning body. Three others have been tendered appointment by the mayor and have accepted, but he stated that he will not make their names public until he has filled the remaining two places.

At its last session, the Georgia general assembly passed an act creating the planning commission.

Authority is granted it to recommend or make suggestions to general council and other, public authorities covering the laying out, widening, extending or location of streets, sidewalks or boulevards, the relief of traffic conditions, development of housing and sanitary conditions and the establishment of zones or districts, suggestions concerning the use, height, area and bulk of buildings or structures.

Jurisdiction of the commission will extend to an area covering six miles adjacent to the present city limits.

There is no doubt that the leniency of the courts in punishing violators of traffic ordinances, as well as in the police in arresting violators, have been largely responsible for this carnival of bloodshed, which is getting as serious as war.

But not alone is the violation of traffic ordinances due to leniency in enforcement, but it is due to rampant violations of the prohibition laws. Whisky and gasoline and, while there are scores of accidents that occur not connected in any way with prohibition violations, the beclouded minds of drivers, from the drinking of the various Georgia brands of "white lightning," are too often responsible for a recklessness that

During the first eight months of 1919 the treaty was under debate in the senate, many of the embargoes remained, and the export trade was not expected to be at its normal; and yet a year later, Barbarous relic of long ago! with a half-normal resumption of foreign business, the exports of eight months of the calendar year have increased only $211,000,000. which is nothing to brag about.

This country must either quickly restore, by peace treaty ratification, normal conditions with our foreign markets, or there is no doubt that, despite a wonderful merchant marine, and the marketing activities of the greatest manufacturing nation on earth, the export trade of the United States will swing to such a low level that old world countries, particuarly England, will have a grip that it will be difficult to loosen.

The democracy of the south has never failed to give a fair hearing to strictly party issues, and has rather welcomed a discussion of the real platform issues between the two major parties.

But the effort of the republican candidates to place a single southern state into the republican column will be as fruitless this year as it will be the next and the next and for all time so long as the republican machine deliberately, if not designedly, makes the race question a party issue in the southern states.

There are thousands of white republicans in the south who are good men, good citizens, and leaders in affairs. There are thousands of white "democrats" in the south who undoubtedly believe in the strict party tenets of the republican faith. But this year, of all years, the republican party will poll a smaller white vote in the south than before-instead of increasing it as contemplated—and the reason for it is directly traceable to the attitude of the party leaders in the Chicago convention in the choice of its southern leaders. The policy of repression of white southern republicans was deliberately adopted for the purpose of putting a stop for all time to the "lily white" movements in the south.

rious question now confronts us

Watson has been legally nominated o represent us in the United States enate, though his vote fell far short of a popular majority.

It is no part of my present purpose to try to discover the hidden causes that brought about his nomcauses that brought about his nom-ination. As against his own insist-ence that his election was the re-sult of his opposition to the league of nations, I am fully convinced that if he had espoused the cause of the league from the start, as-he should have done, and advocated it in his personal organ and on the stump, with his admitted ability of pen and tongue, he would have re-ceived a much larger vote from the good people of Georgia. However much we may regret

However much we may regret that his shining talents were not enlisted on the right side of this greatest of all modern political questions, the fact remains that he won the nomination.

Many Georgians who disapproved his record, thought to console themselves with the hope that the responsibilities of his high position ber his judgment. But they were doomed to disappointment. Quite the contrary has happened. The higher he rises, the more radical he grows in his political theories, and the more rabid he becomes in and the more rabid he becomes in his vindictive abuse of President Wilson. He has now reached the climax where he announces himself an advocate of another secession from the union.

Statement in Sentinel. Lest the sober minded reader statement I had lost my mental balance, I here quote verbatim from Mr. Watson's editorial in his Columbia Sentinel bearing date September 27, 1920, and received in my mail on September 25.

Referring directly to the league of nations treaty, he says:

"Secession was shot down in a four years' war, in which our fathers fought and died; secession is now becoming a solemn duty im-posed upon us by our perjured pres-ident, and by the international bankers and manufacturers of Eu-rope, Asia and Africa."

There are the words; not spoken in the excitement of the hustings but written in the quietude of his office, and printed in cold type in the editorial columns of his paper, where they were underscored, and set up in italics, to give them

I hesitate to characterize such language in proper terms. No one acquainted with my relations to Mr. watson can accuse me of personal animosity to him. But as a citizen, interested in the good name of the state, and the welfare of its people, I am constrained to ask the voters of Georgia, if it does not behoove them to stop and think. Will men of sanity follow such leadership? Will Georgians expose their state to the ridicule and scorn their state to the ridicule and scorr and contempt of our sister states of the union by indorsing such rad cal rot? Surely it is time to call halt on such political madness.

The Governorship. But what else does this latterday secessionist ask us to do? He appeals to us to elect Mr. Hardappeals to us to elect Mr. Hardwick in order to make the victory no antagonism between our government and our senator, when the latter takes his seat in Washington-with the intention, of course, of standing by his declared purpose of secession. God forbid we should come to such a pass.

The situation would be laughable, if it were not a little too serious to be treated so lightly.

The election for governor on October 6 will be a test ernor on October 6 will be a test of the patriotism, the Intelligence and the sanity of our voters. Surely they will save the state from the misfortune of having in the governor's chair, the attorney and personal keeper of the accredited representative of agitators who seek to uproot the principles on which our government is founded—that attorney being also the proud and boastful supporter of our new-ly-risen, latter-day secessionist.

We really ought to make it unanimous in the next primary. There is much for Muscogee and other Walker counties to do, however, and it will be of the greatest importance to keep all organizations intact, and at work. To this end we would like to see the Luscogee County Walker club with the same splendid officers continued in service, and it might be well for all organizations of the state to "carry on."

Some aid will be needed in the smaller counties of the state in order to swing them for Walker, thus defeating the man who was so overwhelmingly repudiated in Georgia in 1918 because of his anti-administration tactics and line-up with the republicans on measures tended to block the successful prosecution of the war against the world's most block the successful prosecution of the war against the world's most powerful foe.

If cool, judgment prevails in this contest there can be no doubt whatever as to the result, but if the hot fires of prejudice and passion continue to burn, there is no telling what may happen.

The issues between these two, whether personal or political, were all threshed out in the campaign prior to the first primary. It does little good to rehash or reiterate them. The people know the facts, they are acquainted with the arguments pro and con—it is up to them to decide what to do.

In the campaign just over the burden of Mr. Hardwick's song was to the effect that he proposed to give his political opponents "hell" from the mountains to the seaboard, and that if elected he would either kick them all out of Georgis, or make life for them so miserable that they would want to get out. HEALTH TALKS By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

PREVENTION OF LUNG FEVER.
Skipping lightly over the symptoms and treatment, which are no concern of ours, we reach the problem of prevention, and I must endeavor to restrain myself from harping on the same old string of the same old harp—about the absurdity of the catching cold delusion. If this ancient delusion had to stand or fall by the results obtained these past few centuries in preventing pneumonia or other respiratory infections by avoiding cold and wet and drafts and changes of weather, changes of shirts, hair cuts, going out without galoshes on damp days, and all that sort of bootless business, the superstition would be pretty thoroughly shattered by this time, wouldn't it? Christian Science is right about it. Somewhere in Science and Health I remember Mrs. Eddy observed that the less people knew about—well, here is the note I made of it long ago:

"Damp atmosphere and freezing snow empurpled the plump cheeks of our ancestors, but they never indulged in the refinement of inflamed bronchial tubes, they were as innocent as Adam before he ate the fruit of false knowledge of the existence of tubercles and troches, lungs and lozenges."

The open air sleeping porch or an equivelent thereof is an important preventive measure. Pneumonia germs certainly prefer nice warm indoor atmosphere in the season when they are most engaged.

GEORGIA NEEDS WALKER. GEORGIA NEEDS WALKER.

(From The Augusta Chronicle.)
On October 6, there will be a second primary for the governorship of Georgia. It will be the first time that Georgia has had such a primary, as this law for second primaries in the event of no candiadterices in the event of n combination between Walker and Holder can make Walker governor, and no combination between Hardwick and Holder can make Hardwick and Holder can make Hardwick governor.

Surfeited with politics, the state of Georgia isn't keen for another such race as we have recently passed through. There can be no such stages of excitement reached as in the days preceding the first primary when there was a senatorial race, congressional and gubernatorial. The people of Georgia argoing about their work of electing Walker on October 6 in a plain, businesslike manner. There will be no glare of trumpets, no great excitment of any kind, and there will not be any such tremendous vote in the state as was polled on September 8. However, there will be a majority for Walker, we feel quite sure.

Clifford Walker is a clean-cut, Mr. White said that the visit of honorable, Christian gentieman, who will undoubtedly, make Georgia a good governor. He is safe and sane. He is inclined to conservatism, but that does not mean that he is against reform, and the state government will, without question, be increased in efficiency, if the legislature will do its part. The hands of a governor can be tied or untied by the legislature, which body holds the purse strings.

As we view it, Mr. Hardwick is not the man Georgia wants for governor. He is a radical of the radicals, who refused to give to the United States government, while he was a senator from one of the greatest states in the union, any co-operation in the matter of waging the war. He oposed the draft act, which is recognized by people of all descriptions, as the only fair way of raising an army, and came back to Georgia with a flamboyant, braggadocio speech, in the course of which he asid, "God forbid that a single drop of conscripted American blood should be shed on European of which he asid, "God forbid that a single drop of conscripted American blood should be shed on European battlefields." It was apparently all right to shed all the volunteer blood that was needed, but all wrong to shed conscripted blood. Evidently, Mr. Hardwick thought it would be nopular in Georgia to oppose the draft, but Georgians soon taught him how they felt about such matters, and he was denounced from one end of the state to the other. In 1918 he was defeated overwhelmingly for the senate.

The pepole of Georgia do not look 1918 he was defeated overwhelmingly for the senate.

And Mr. Hardwick admits he defended him for $30,000. Shame on an American who would do such a thing! How unpardonable for a Georgian to even consider such a thing!

The pepole of Georgia will, on October 6, rebuke Mr. Hardwick, and will tely the attorney for the soviet ambassador that while they can stand for lots of things, there is a limit, and that limit has been eached and passed when he asks them to send him to the governor's chair.

The Associated Press of September 26 carried the following dispatch from Berne, the capital of Switzerland: Berne, September 26.—The Swiss government has decided not to open political or commercial relations with soviet Russia. senator Harding's front porch at Marion, Ohio, was commented on by George White, chairman of the democratic national committee. In connection with a misrepresentation industriously circulated by the republican national committee concerning Governor Cox's attitude toward commercial travelers.

Clifford Walker is a clean-cut, honorable, Christian gentleman, who will undoubtedly, make Georgia the salezmen to the republican cangood governor. He is safe and sane. Mr. White said that the visit of didate made pertinent a statement disproving the assertion that Governor Cox is unfriendly to traveling salesmen and giving facts which had been concealed by the republicans in order to give color to their misstatements.

Governor Cox believes that the traveling salesmen have made possible the present development of American markets, said Mr. White American markets, said Mr. White. He made this statement six years ago during his first administration as governor of Ohio. The immediate occasion for this estimate of the part traveling salesmen have played in our supremacy in world trade was Governor Cox's disavowal of an editorial derogatory to traveling salesmen published in The Dayton News.

The editorial was published in The News on August 15, 1914, without Governor Cox's knowledge, at a time when he was giving his whole attention to his duties as governor, and had left the conduct of his newspapers to his employees. The editorial was full of exaggerations and entirely out of line with the well-known and proved sympathes of Governor Cox. He promptly telegraphed the managing editor of The News, demanding the immediate recraction of the editorial over the signature of the writer.

This was done. The following apology signed by Howard Bratton, who wrote the editorial, appeared in The News:

"Upon returning to the city my attention has been directed to an editorial published during my absence which has given offense to traveling men. The spirit of the editorial has been altogether misunderstood. The commercial traveler is a wholly necessary factor in distribution and works along perfectly honorable and on legitimate lines. I sincerely regret the interpretation that has been placed upon this editorial, and to any who have taken umbrage, gially apologize for having expressed myself clumsily. Farmers, as a Whole,

And the Loan Basis. Farmers, as a whole, have not received the cost of production and reasonable profit. This is proven a reasonable profit. This is proven by the cost production and price figures, by the decreasing rural population, and by the difficulty of keeping the young folks on the farm. Agriculture is largely a profitless industry. The cost of credit is a big item in the cost of production. Farmers have to pay every year close to a quarter of a billion dollars more for necessary credit than they should.

From every standpoint it is in the public interest to provide adequate and cheap short-time credit for farmers, both to keep the prices of the products of farm staples down to a reasonable figure for consumers, and to insure adequate crops next and succeeding years.

SPECIAL PRIMARY ORDERED IN BIBB FOR SOLICITOR

Macon, Ga., September 27 .- (Spe cial.)-A special primary was called by the Bibb county democratic cial.)—A special primary was called by the Bibb county democratic executive committee today to be held on October 6 on nominate a candidate for solicitor of the city court of Macon.

Row W. Moore, son of former Mayor John T. Moore, was Saturday night named by Governor Dorsey to be solicitor of the court to fill the vacancy caused by the appointment of Solicitor Will Gunn to be judge of the city court. Mr. Moore's appointment was for the period untit January I. 1920. When the appointment of Mr. Moore was made it was generally thought he would finish out the four-year term of Mr. Gunn, but it was discovered the governorwas without authority to name the attorney who will fill the four-year term. The reason for holding a primary is that Mr. Gunn had only been nominated and not elected and, therefore, no vacancy from January, 1921, to January, 1925, was made by the elevation of Mr. Gunn to the judgeship. Had the general election been held previous to the appointment of Mr. Moore he would have held office until 1925.

To save the candidates any additional expense, the executive committee fixed the primary for the same date as the run-off race between Clifford Walker and Thomas W. Hardwick for the governorship. Mr. Moore will be a candidate for the full term and Sam B. Hunter announced today he will also make the race.

Petition Is Filed With Georgia Railroad Board, Following Favorable Action by Interstate Commission.

ncrease of 12% per cent in all intrastate express rates on August 26 by the Georgia railroad commission, the American Railway Express com-pany filed Monday afternoon another petition for an increase of 131/2 per cent, pursuant to the order issued September 21 by the interstate commerce commission grant-ing the same advance on all interstate traffic and the hearing has been set for October 28.

The express company claims in its petition to the commission that the increase is made necessary to meet increased wages to employees amounting to $44,000,000 granted by the United States labor board on August 10, and adds that its plea is offered on the same basic grounds as that presented to the interstate commerce commission in September.

September.
The order of September 21 of the interstate commerce commission states it was found "that the will make such increased rates erfective upon not less than one day's notice in the manner provided by the interstate commerce act."

The increase in intrastate express rates granted by the Georgia commission on August 26 was made before the labor board granted the 44.000,000 increase in wages of the express company's employees.

Immediately after the petition was filed Monday afternoon by Robert C. Alston and J. P. Webster, representing the company, Chairman Murphy Candler set the date of the hearing on October 28.

It's 'Captain Bill' Again, As Sirmon Takes Commission

Atlanta War Hero and Army Service Veteran Back in Harness With the Fifth Division.

It's "Captain Bill" again, for William A. Sirmon, war hero who won his decorations for gallantry with the Eighty-second division, has acepted the commission as captain proffered him by the war department, and is back in uniform.

Captain Sirmon has been assigned to the Sixtleth infantry, a part of the Fifth division, which is now in process of being removed from Camp Gordon to Camp Jackson, Columbia, S. C. As he is now on a two weeks' leave of absence, Bill expects to join his command in Columbia.

The gallant service which the captain rendered in the gruelling fighting seen by his regiment overseas won for him the American distinguished service cross, the French croix de guerre with palm and the rank of chevalier of the French legion d' honneur. Captain Sirmon returned to this country and has been connected with the realty business in Atlanta for some time.

Bill says that this is the first time he's felt natural since he doffed his uniform more than a year ago—for Bill has always been a soldiering man. He has served in the Philippines and in almost every other land where troops have been stationed, and, at that, is still young, as regular army captains go.

The warden saw the 'plumes on display in the show window yesterday and today he called and asked that all algrettes, egret plumes, or so-called osprey piumes, in the store be turned over to him. He secured eighteen bunches, which the manager said had been in the store for twelve years.

The case is being handled through the United States department of agriculture and through the department of justice.

The aigrettes are taken from herons, which migrate during different seasons of the year, and the feathers cannot be lawfully owned. Hundreds of women in Georgia own aigrettes, most of them purchased before the law went into effect, but they are none the less violators of the law, it is claimed.

U. S. TRADE BALANCE DROPPED IN AUGUST

Washington, September 27.—The decided reduction in size of the favorable trade balance of the United States as evidenced in the foreign trade of the country during August has been expected for months and in no way feflects an unsound economic condition in the nation, according to a summary of trade conditions tonight by O. P. Hopkins, acting director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce.

Several factors have been working to reduce the previous enormous excess of exports, which fell from $114,000,000 in July to $65,000,000 in August, Mr. Hopkins said.

GENERAL DROP COMING IN PRICES OF FOOD

Chicago, September 27.—A general reduction in food prices was predicted today by Sol Westerfeld, president of the Retail Grocers' association, who excepted only eggs and butter from what he said would be a steady decline. He said high interests on bank loans made price cutting necessary for producers to move it: that coffee had recently dropped loc a pound, and that he loeked for cheaper bread-because of lower flour prices. Fruit was at a minimum, in some cases lower than 1915 prices, he said.

"Although it may mean loss to some producers and distributors," he said, "the nation as a whole will benefit, and a return to normal conditions will be effected."

Market Starts Strong, But Soon Reverses. Commodity Price Cuts

The feature of today's cotton market has been the continued heavy southern selling, presumably hedging, and at increasing movement for which no adequate trade demand has yet developed. General sentiment still is much unsettled by continuation of the price cutting movement, disturbed business and financial conditions and uncertainty of disposition of the early receipts. The trade is uncertain whether the cuts in goods prices are sufficient to create a definite demand, meanwhile paying little attention to the weather and crop news, one end-of-month report made the condition 59.6 last week. A New Orleans authority reports 61.6 against 68 last month. FENNER & BEANE.

New York, September 27.—(Special.)—
Interior markets showed a sharp break since Saturday and the contract markets were again called upon to take care of the heavy hedge selling, which could only be done on big receisions. At the present time there is no concentrated buying power and the principal demand is due mainly to recovering of contracts sold at the higher level. We expect rapid price changes at this level, and while we look for uitimately lower prices we believe that mills will buy moderately on any further downward trend. Financial conditions, both here and abroad, however, are not as yet reassuring.

New York, September 27.—(Special.)—
The price cutting wave in all lines continues and is becoming more general. News is pessimistic and likewise domestic trade. Exports of cotton continue light, and the demand is so entirely absent that some mills are discussion entirely sheurt downward straying shuring down and staying s

New York, September 27.—Cotton goods and cotton yarn markets today were again weakened by the drop in raw cotton. Print cloths sold as low as any time this year. Raw silk was slightly easier; burlaps quiet and wool goods sold slowly.

Sugar.

New York, September 27.—The local market for raw sugar was unaetiled today, and while prices were not quotably lower, in the absence of business it was believed that sugars could be obtained at below the last prices paid. Prices were quoted at 9% for Cubas, cost and freight, equal to 10.78 for centrifugal.

The market for refined was weak and prices were half a cent a pound lower to the basis of 14c for rine granulated. The decline, however, failed to create any increase in the demand, as second hand sugars were said to be available at below the 14-cent level.

The easier feeling in refined and the more willingness on the part of holders of raw sugar to make sales even at the expense of prices, led to scattered liquidation in sugar tourse and prices broke sharply, closing at 75 to 100 points net loss for the day. October sold down to 8.24, or 100 points below the closing figure of last week, and the full maximum fluctuations permitted in any one day's trading.

Chicago, Septe 27.—Houses with export connections absorbed offerings of wheat today, and prices soared after a brief downturn at the start. The close was strong, 41-4 to 61-2 net higher, with December $2.23 1-2 to $2.23 3-4, and March $2.17 3-4 te $2.18. Corn gained, 2 to 51-4 and oats, 11-4 to 13-4. In provisions the outcome varied from 2 12c decline to an advance of 2 1-2c. At first the wheat market had a decided downward tendency owing to persistent selling in small lots. General declines in commodity values together with some uncertainty as to financial conditions formed the basis of the selling. The celerity with which offerings of wheat were taken, however, soon led to a radical change of sentiment. Short covering on a large scale ensued and the subsequent ascent of prices did not end until the December delivery had gone 10c above the day's bottom of the grounds. Bulls made much of a report that 91 former cooperative companies out of 106 were adopting a holding policy as far as financially able. 2 12c decline to an advance of 2 1-2c. adopting a holding policy as had a bullish influence on corn. notwithstanding that but little is raised in the districts affected. Probably no man but Belasco could take the melodramatic "Tiger Rose" and make of it a play that even those who deny their love for melodrama would openly, almost brazenly, enjoy. But Belasco has done it—proved by the second season appearance of the production at the Atlanta theater Monday night.

Belasco had assistance, of course, and able assistance, chiefly in the person of Francesco Cappelland.

Belasco had assistance, of course, and able assistance, chiefly in the person of Francesco Cappellano, who handled the arduous—from a ohysical standpoint, if other fea-tures were ignored—role of Rose Bocion, the flery, temperamental, ove-swayed French-Canadian girl. Bocion, the fiery, temperamental love-swayed French-Canadian girl. There were certain people who doubted her ability, upon hearing of the change made, to clinch the dramatic grip of the play as did Maria Ascaraga last season.

But the personality of Signorina Cappellano is properly in keeping with the sensational scenic effects which are really the vital parts of the production, her charm as dynamic as the thunderstorm in the second and as lovely as the coming of dawn in the third act—the two Belascoesque items that retain for the great producer his title of "master technician of the drama."

The presence of the new Rose was the only substantial change which could occur, so exacting and constantly alive is this is practically the only substantial change which could occur, so exacting and constantly alive is this leading role.

Another change on the program, however, could have robbed the audience of its opportunity to see "Daddy" Lewis again—but, fortu-

The play is enjoyable, and stood well the crucial test of a second season's appearance.

PAUL WARWICK. Keith Vaudeville.

With Margaret Barron in the role of Lotta Shivers, ably supported by the "Toonerville Tooters," B. F. Keith's Lyric loses its audience in a wonderland of jazz music, suddenly brings it back to the land of laughter when Al Anger and Adelon appear in a humorous skit entitled "Slapped," and then sends it away with a memory of "A Day at the Races," as presented by Galetti's baboons.

The program the first three days of the week is opened with a little sunshine in the person of Florence Rayfield, who features in an artistic repertoire of popular songs to the satisfaction of a pleased audience.

the satisfaction of a pleased audience.

After a few moments of wit, as offered by Holiday and Burns, the audience is carried to jazzland via the Toonerville Tooters, where it remains, while Margaret Barron threatens to bring the "shimmy" back in vogue in the capital city.

Al Anger and Adelon present a witty sketch which proves to be better than the usual, with the former in the role of a typical "teahound" and the latter as a perfect "baby doll."

A novel act is presented by Galetti's baboons, and the barber shop scene brings much applause.

The prelude of music and pictures presented is entertaining.

Loew Vaudeville. (At the Grand.)

A scenic wonder augmented by song and comedy is the spectacular headliner at Loew's Grand for the first half of the week, while a remarkable male quartet and a farcical skit run a close second for highest honors on a great bill. "On Manila Bay" is the title of the big act. So far as optical illusions and mystifying stagecraft is concerned, this naval spectacle is in a class by itself. While a talented company of singers, dancers and comedians make merry on the edge of the Pacific, a marvelous panorama of ocean-going vessels pass in the background. The Four Ushers, a foursome of youths whose voices harmonize with tremendous effectiveness, probably earned the largest number of encores on the opening day of the show. "Poor Old Jim." a cleverly con-"Fool's Gold."

(At the Strand.)

"Fool's Gold." the new co-starring vehicle of Mitchell Lewis and Florence Turner, which opened a week's engagement at the Strand on Monday, is one of the most beautiful pictures in point of scenery that one could well imagine. All the beauty of the Sierra Nevada mountains seems to have been caught by the camera. There is the mining part of this atory as well as the dramatic part, enough of each to make this an unusually strong and interesting photoplay. In "Fool's Gold" Florence Turner has a part that is well suited to her well-known ability. She is as charming and sweet as ever. "Crooked Streets."

"Crooked Streets."

(At the Rialto,)

Ethel Clayton's new Paramount-Arteraft picture, "Crooked Streets," which opened a week's engagement at the Rialto on Monday, is one of the best pictures that Miss Clayton has been seen in this season. The plot of the story is laid mainly in Shanghai, and the scenes pictured in the "Paris of the Orient" are most entertaining and colorful. The star has the role of Gail Ellis, a resourceful young American girl, who becomes secretary to a Professor Griswold on a trib to China. Miss Clayton is supported by a good cast, including Jack Holt and Clyde Fillmore. Parul Powell directed, and the picture is a Paramount-Arteraft. A new Pox Sunships comedy entitled "Chase Meroved to be a rice of fun. The girls were pretty, the comedians worth while and the plot actually held together. show.
"Poor Old Jim." a cleverly conceived and admirably portrayed skit

Alvin and Kenny start the Grand's opening bill off at a dizzy pace with mingled foolishness and sensational work on the flying rings. Gaynell and Mack put over some of the most entertaining and difficult acrobatic dancing ever presented here.

"The Invisible Divorce," the Grand's picture headliner, is an exceptionally powerful melodrama.

Pauline Prederick.

(At the Forsyth.)

Pauline Frederick's new picture, "The Woman in Room 13," is one of the strongest and best mystery pictures that has been seen here upon the screen in many weeks. The story revolves about one Laura Bruce, who, after leaving her husband and securing a divorce, weds again and is madily in love with her second husband. Husband No. I returns soon after the second wedding of the unhappy woman, and, through revengful motives, entangles his former wife in a web of circumstantial evidence that seems destined to wreck her happiness. It races on to a wonderful climax, and is a worth while picture in every respect—one that "The Discarded Woman."

(At the Tudor.)

"The Discarded Woman," an interesting and a well-produced picture, is being shown this week at the Tudor theater, with the leading roles portrayed by Grace Darling and Rod LaRoeque, From the production standpoint "The Discarded Woman" could not be very much improved upon. The photography is excellent, the settings elaborate and the gowns worn by the players in accord with the story. It's the kind of a picture that tugs at your heart strings. The story deals in a broad way with a phase of life that is all too common, that of a man discarding a woman who has placed her confidence in him. Most women after such an experience, would go through life sorrow-time but not so with Grace Darling, who "The Discarded Woman."

gradually adjust themselves to more normal conditions. If working people can be persuaded to increase production the return of the world to happier and more livable conditions will be hastened. The adjustment will be slow if they disregard their economic responsibilities.

Great Britain and all settled governments, regardless of their domestic, wants, will make supreme efforts to reduce the trade balance against them and will bend every effort toward large exports of manufactured goods, especially cotton goods. The conditions, however, are such in Germany, Central Europe and Russia, that we feel that in venturing the estimate of a probable foreign consumption of American cotton of 6,350,000 bales we are exceeding the probabilities, building upon the belief that conditions in Europe will soon turn for the better.

The consumption in America is not likely to exceed 6,350,000. Louise Glaum.

(At the Criterion.)

Louise Glaum again demonstrates her wonderful dramatic ability as "The Leopard Woman" in the screen production under the same title, which is being shown at the Criterion theater all this week. This time she faithfully depicts a fearful, fascinating enchantress, with all the warmth, the passion and dreaminess of the tropics, expressed in vevery action. The story concerns the elemental conflict of a strong man with a determined woman against a primitive, inspiring setting. Both lose their fight against love. House Peters, always fine, contributes an excellent role. The weird, haunting music of the tropics forms most of the accompanying musical program and, as rendered by the Criterion orchestra, is one of the most pleasing features of the presentation.

The mother of this family is

The mother of this family is a fraid little woman. She is kept at home to nurse an invalid sister. Her husband died several years ago with tuberculogis and she is making every effort to prevent the development of the disease in her children.
